Re: non-official witnesses, it is for consideration whether all of them need be paid T.A. and if so at a uniform rate allowing First class Rg fare and Rs 5/- daily allowance irrespective of their personal status [Members of the R.A.
are allowed II class Rg fare, and Rs 5/- a day.]
Further are witnesses resident in Bangalore to be paid D.A. for days of attendance?

The Gen Secy. may perhaps be consulted.

I think that T.A. has to be allowed to witnesses who appear before the Commission & give evidence.
T.A. may therefore be allowed in the case of non-official witnesses. As regards witnesses in Bangalore neither T.A. nor D.A. is asked for.
The giving of evidence is a matter of public interest and for such service no compensation is needed. The rates of T.A. proposed seem moderate and may be accepted. The class of persons who will be called upon to give evidence is such that their status would call for even better privileges than that conceded to R.A. members.
